Theological Department.

This Department embraces the following branches :

(1.) Exegetical Theology with its Auxiliary Sciences, Sacred Philology, Biblical Archaeology, Biblical Criticism, and Hermeneutics.

(2.) Historical Theology, embracing Biblical History, Biblical Theology, Church History, and History of Doctrines, including Patristics and Symbolics.

(3.) Systematic Theology, embracing (a) Christian Dogmatics with its relations to Apologetics, Polemics, and Irenics, and (b) Christian Ethics.

(4.) Practical Theology, embracing (a) Haliotics and Catechetics, (b) Liturgies and Homiletics, (c) Pastoral Theology, (d) Church Government.

The course of instruction occupies two years, which are divided into four Sessions.

FIRST YEAR :

FIRST SESSION :

Encyclopedia and Methodology of the Theological Sciences.
Biblical History.
Church History.
History of Doctrines.
Apologetics.
Biblical Archaeology.
Hebrew, (Genesis).
Greek Exegesis, the Parables.

SECOND SESSION :

Christian Dogmatics.
Biblical Theology.
Biblical Criticism.
Hermeneutics.
Hebrew, (Isaiah).
Greek Exegesis, continued.

SECOND YEAR :

FIRST SESSION :

Christian Dogmatics, continued.
Christian Ethics.
Haliotics and Catechetics.
Liturgies and Homiletics.
Hebrew, (Isaiah continued).
Greek Exegesis, Romans.

SECOND SESSION :

Christian Dogmatics and Christian
Ethics completed.
Pastoral Theology.
Church Government.
Exegesis of the Old and New Testament, completed.

Lectures are delivered during the entire course. The students are required to write exegetical essays, and to take part in conferences in which religious and theological subjects are discussed.

In connection with Homiletics, the students have exercises in sermonizing.

It is desirable that applicants for admission into this Department should possess a knowledge of all the branches of a full collegiate course, or at least of Arithmetic, Natural Philosophy, Ancient and Modern Geography, General History, English Grammar, Mental and Moral Science, Logic and Greek.

This Department is open for members of every Branch of the Christian Church, who possess the requisite attainments and a Christian character.

No charge is made for tuition or lectures. The sessions and vacations are the same as in other Departments. The proper time to enter is the beginning of the Winter Session. Students have access to libraries containing many valuable theological books.

Collegiate Department.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission into the Freshman Class are examined in Cæsar, Virgil, Goodwin's Greek Grammar, Latin Prosody, Geography, (Ancient and Modern), English Grammar, Arithmetic, History of the United States, Watts on the Mind, Algebra, Latin Grammar (Harkness), Berard's History of England, Harkness' Greek Exercises, and Anabasis.

An accurate and thorough acquaintance with these studies is indispensably necessary, in order to receive the full advantage of the Collegiate Course. It has been found by experience that students imperfectly prepared for the classes which they enter are embarrassed in their future progress, and are seldom able to repair the want of solid preparatory instruction.

Every applicant for admission to a class more advanced than the Freshman will be examined in all the branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended.

In all cases satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character are required, and those who have been connected with other Colleges must produce certificates of honorable dismissal.

No student is matriculated until he is fourteen years of age and has been connected with the Institution three weeks; until then he is considered merely a probationer, and can be admitted to membership only on satisfactory evidence of a good moral character.

Course of Instruction.

The course of instruction in the Collegiate Department occupies four years. In each year there are two sessions.

 General Review of Studies.

Department of Civil Engineering.

Preparations will be made to open a department for instruction in Civil Engineering at the beginning of the next Winter Session.

Students in this Department will recite in the regular College Classes in the studies which are common to both. They will receive special attention in their special work, and much time in the last year will be devoted to field work—as] Leveling, Topography, Laying Out Work, and Computing Earth Work, and to practical examinations and descriptions of Bridges, Tunnels, Machines, &c.

Preparatory Department.

The Course of Study in this Department is sufficient to give students a good English education, and to prepare them for entrance upon the Collegiate Course. It regularly occupies two years, the first of which is devoted to a thorough review of the common branches and the study of elementary Latin. In the second (or Sub-Freshman) year, the work of direct preparation for the Collegiate Course is pursued.

The studies attended to, and the text-books used (as far as fixed), are shown in the following list:

FIRST YEAR—Reading, Spelling and Analysis of Words, English Grammar (Harvey), Modern Geography (Guyot), History of the United States (Venable), Complete Arithmetic (Stoddard), Latin Grammar and Reader (Harkness), Penmanship.

SECOND YEAR—Cæsar, Virgil, Classical and Sacred Geography, Watts on the Mind, Elements of Algebra (Loomis), Greek Grammar (Goodwin), First Greek Book (Harkness), Jones' Exercises in Greek Prose, Anabasis, History of England (Berard), Reading and Spelling continued.

Students in this Department have frequent exercises in Composition and Declamation. They also have the privilege of attending to any branch in the Collegiate Course for the study of which they are prepared, such as Geometry, Physiology, Rhetoric, &c.

PRIZE.

Prof. J. C. Brodfuehrer has set apart a One Hundred Dollar U. S. Bond, bearing interest in gold, as a Prize Fund. The interest of this is paid each year to that member of the Department, entering the Freshman Class, who is most proficient in Latin and Greek.

Miscellaneous Items.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two general examinations during the year—one at the close of each session ; also a special examination in any study when completed. Absence from the examinations is found to be very injurious to the improvement of the student, and renders him liable to be placed in a lower class. Reports respecting the chavior, diligence and scholarship of the students are sent to the parents or guardians after EACH general examination.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Collegiate Year is divided into two sessions. The Commencement of 1876 occurs on the third Thursday of June, and the first Term of the Collegiate year commences twelve weeks after that time, and closes the third Thursday of March, 1877. The Summer Session commences two weeks thereafter and ends on the last Thursday in June, the day of the Annual Commencement.

No student is allowed to be absent from the Institution without a special permission. The absence of a student during the session, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury to his education than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians.

It is highly important that students should return to College to attend the first recitations of their respective classes, since an absence of a few days, when a new branch of study is commenced, seldom fails to embarrass the whole course, and, in some cases, it is impossible to make up the loss.

Societies, Libraries and Apparatus.

There are two Literary Societies—the Excelsior and Philosophian—connected with the Institution, whose members exercise every week, in their respective halls, in composition, debate and declamation. Their libraries, in connection with the College library, now contain eight thousand volumes.

The College has, also, a sufficient Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus to make all the experiments for the illustration of the Natural Sciences.

Cabinet.

The Cabinet has been enriched during the past year with many valuable specimens. The entire collection is increasing in importance and extent each year. The authorities of the College invite all its friends to aid in making contributions to the Cabinet.

Religious Exercises.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening with the reading of the Scriptures, at which all the students, rooming in the College, are required to be present.

Parents and guardians who send pupils to the Institution are requested to inform the Faculty where they shall attend worship. In the absence of such directions they will be required to worship at the College Church.

Strict attention is paid to the health, manners and morals of students. No profane, obscene or reproachful language is allowed to be used. Students are required to ventilate their rooms thoroughly, keep them in a cleanly and orderly condition, and to observe regular hours for meals, sleep, study and exercise.

Expenses.

The price of Tuition is Thirty Dollars per year.

Winter Session.....	$20.00
Summer Session.....	10.00

Every new student will be charged from the time he enters according to the above rates. Tuition and room rent must be paid in advance.

The room rent for each student is five dollars for the Winter and two dollars and a half for the Summer session.

Incidental expenses, one dollar and fifty cents per year.

Coal costs from $3.50 to $4.50 per ton. Washing is done for $1.00 per month. Boarding and lodging in private families can be had for from $4.00 to $5.00 per week. At the College, board is furnished by the club system, and ranges in price from $1.50 to $2.50 per week.

The following may be considered a near estimate of the necessary annual expenses for each student :

Board (40 weeks, from $1.75 to $2.50 per week).....	$70.00 to $100.00
Tuition	30.00
Room rent and incidentals.....	9.00
Fuel and light.....	12.00
Washing	9.00
Total.....	$130.00 to $160.00

From this account of expenditures it will appear THAT THERE ARE FEW INSTITUTIONS AFFORDING THE SAME FACILITIES OF EDUCATION AT WHICH THE EXPENSE OF THE STUDENT CAN BE AS SMALL AS THIS.

All the books which the student will need can be obtained in the city at reasonable rates.

History and Location of the Institution.

The College was chartered by the Legislature of Ohio in the Winter of 1844-5, with the corporate name of "The Board of Directors of Wittenberg College." All bequests must be made in the above name or title—thus: I give and bequeath to the Board of Directors of Wittenberg College [here state the amount of property bequeathed], in trust for the use of said Institution."

The Institution is called after the great center of light in Europe in the sixteenth century—the University of Wittenberg, in Germany—in which the immortal Luther did so much for the illumination of benighted Christendom.

It is located one-half mile from Springfield, on a lot of forty-two acres. The site is elevated, supplied with good water, is finely shaded with sugar and other forest trees, and overlooks a fine landscape in every direction.

Springfield has over sixteen thousand inhabitants, and is distinguished for beauty and healthfulness, and the moral and hospitable character of its citizens. It has twenty churches.

The government of the Institution resembles, as far as possible, that of a well-regulated family.

A large majority of the Collegiate students now in attendance are candidates for the Gospel Ministry.
